

CLIQUE EATS: NOLA

JULY 18

BY TOMAS TELEGRAMMA

Taking its name from the abbreviation of New Orleans, Louisiana, NOLA brings a dose of good ol' southern soul to the east end. Exposed brick walls and polished timber bar-tops take you to the Deep South, while their fresh-faced "Feed Me" menu is the perfect way to get acquainted with the bangin' Creole and Cajun staples. It's no secret they're dishing up the juiciest fried chicken you'll taste, lathered up with their sauce of the day, while the spiced crocodile ribs is their take on the notorious Louisiana 'gator. And to wash it all down, the guys are pouring more than just your run-of-the-mill craft brews, with sixteen rotating taps, and over a hundred whiskeys (and counting).

293–295 Rundle St, Adelaide

@nolaadelaide

nolaadelaide.com

Photography by Duy Dash.

Brought to you by NOLA.